

Associate Professor Jake Lynch is the Director of the Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies at the University of Sydney, and an Executive Member of the Sydney Peace Foundation. Before taking up an academic post, Jake enjoyed a 20-year career in journalism, with spells as the Sydney correspondent for The Independent, and a Political Correspondent for Sky News at Westminster, culminating in a role as an on-air presenter for BBC World Television News. These two sections of his professional background meet in his research interest of Peace Journalism, in which he is the most published and most cited author.
